Learning at Home

When School is Closed
Right now schools are closed to help keep the Coronavirus from spreading to new people.

They are closing for at least two weeks and then the schools and the government will decide if it is safe to open them again or if they will stay closed longer.
Learning is important and even though schools are closed, teachers are still working to make sure students can learn at home.

Teachers are sending assignments to homes and some are putting work on the internet so students can get it online.
Doing my school work at home can be fun!

I will set times that are just for school work and go to a place that is quiet so I can focus.
My teachers might send me work to practice the skills I know how to do or I may learn new things.

Just like in school, I can ask for help if I need it.
I can also take quick breaks to move around or give my brain a rest. During my breaks, I can stretch or do deep breathing.

Just like school, I will keep my breaks short and then go back to work.

I can also make a schedule for doing my schoolwork so I will know when to take a break!
I am going to work hard and learn all I can while my school is closed! My family and teachers will be very proud of me!

Great Job!
