Adirondack Case Management and Advocacy

Organization Contact: Michael Cagnetti

Organization Address: 5 Emma Lane, Clifton Park NY 12065

Organization Email: mcagnetti@adkcma.com

Phone: 518-836-2405

Fax: 518-881-1622

Organization Website: www.adkcma.com

Organization Description: Adirondack Case Management & Advocacy is a privately owned company that was established to help families and professionals navigate the system of services which supports individuals with disabilities. As residents of New York State, we are fortunate to have many programs which are designed to meet the needs of the disability community. Yet even the most well-intentioned and competent advocates can find the service delivery system complicated, and the rules governing eligibility and access to programs difficult to understand. We work together with family members, service coordinators, guardians, and trustees to access available services through various government-funded programs, and to ensure that private funds (either trust funds or family funds) are utilized in a cost-effective manner.

Hours of Operation: 8am-4:30pm

Population Served: We provide services to families and individuals impacted by a wide range of disabilities and diagnosis including Developmental Disabilities, Autism, Brain Injury, Neurological Impairments, Behavioral Health Impairments, and others.

Eligibility Criteria (if applicable):

Organization Description: Crossroads Center for Children is located in Schenectady and enrolls approximately 120 children from 20 school districts in the surrounding eight counties. Additionally, the school enrolls students with general education needs for the preschool and daycare program. Integration of children with and without special learning needs is shown through research to have advantages for all types of learners, and is known as a best practice in preschool settings. Children that are enrolled in the program for special education services are either diagnosed on the autism spectrum or can simply benefit from a behaviorally based educational program. Applied behavior analysis (ABA) is the fundamental approach for instruction at Crossroads Center for Children. The ABA Clinic at Crossroads Center for Children specializes in providing ABA therapy to children diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder. Services are provided by Board Certified Behavior Analysts (BCBAs) and highly skilled behavior technicians. A variety of skills can be targeted using the science of ABA, ranging from improvement of play and leisure skills, adaptive skills, communication skills, social skills, to addressing toilet training issues, various sleep and eating issues, as well as problem behaviors. Therapy may occur at the Clinic, the child's home, daycare, and/or other community settings. Families can contract with the clinic for ABA services that are funded by insurance coverage.

Organization Website:

https://www.health.ny.gov/community/infants_children/early_intervention/index.htm

Organization Description: The New York State Early Intervention Program (EIP) is part of the national Early Intervention Program for infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families. First created by Congress in 1986 under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), the EIP is administered by the New York State Department of Health through the Bureau of Early Intervention. In New York State, the Early Intervention Program is established in Article 25 of the Public Health Law and has been in effect since July 1, 1993. The mission of the Early Intervention Program is to identify and evaluate as early as possible those infants and toddlers whose healthy development is compromised and provide for appropriate intervention to improve child and family development.

Hours of Operation: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Population Served: The New York State Early Intervention Program (EIP) is a Statewide Program that provides services to infants and toddlers, ages birth to 3 years old with disabilities or delays, and their families. The Early Intervention Programs are administered within each county/municipality in the State. The Early Intervention Official (EIO) manages the local program.

Eligibility Criteria (if applicable): To be eligible for services, children must be under 3 years of age and have a confirmed disability or established developmental delay, as defined by the State, in one or more of the following areas of development: physical, cognitive, communication, social-emotional, and/or adaptive.

How to Apply for Services: To make a referral to the Early Intervention Program, you would need to contact the county in which the child lives. You can find the phone number for the child's county by accessing the following link:

http://www.health.ny.gov/community/infants_children/early_intervention/county_eip.htm.

In New York City, you can make a referral to the EIP by dialing the NYC toll line number: 311. To properly direct your call, you can say, "I want to make a referral to the Early Intervention Program." Once the referral is made to the EIP, the EIO will appoint an initial service coordinator who will schedule an appointment to further explain the EIP to the family and the evaluation that will take place to determine whether the child is eligible for services through the EIP.

Organization Description: The College Experience Program at the College of Saint Rose (<https://thecollegeexperience.org/>) is a two-year, non-credit bearing life skill and employment focused residential college program, hosted in partnership with The College of St. Rose in Albany, NY. The College Experience offers students the opportunity to experience college life while being supported in a unique curriculum tailored to the goals of independent living and employment. Enrolled College Experience students are considered St. Rose students, therefore they are fully involved in campus life-taking part in clubs and activities, utilizing on campus amenities. College Experience students take classes focused in areas such as: Independent living skills (chores, cooking, grocery shopping, etc.), Employment opportunities and supports, Finance and budgeting skills, Public transportation, Interpersonal communication and community involvement. Our students live in off-campus dorms where they are supported by staff Residential Assistants and a floating overnight staff who provide assistance with skills building outside of classes. Students graduate with a certificate of completion from the College of St. Rose, and it is also our goal that students graduate from College Experience with a resume and strong employment skills.

CareerNext (<https://careernext.org/>) is a supportive, academic fee-for-service program hosted at SUNY Cobleskill, SUNY Schenectady County Community College, and Hudson Valley Community College. Our Academic Coordinators support the students in our program with executive functioning skills like organization, time management, prioritization, professor communication, and on-campus advocacy, as well as provide academic tutoring. Students meet with their Academic Coordinator daily and work one-on-one within the CareerNext classroom on their campus. Prospective students need to meet admission to their college/program of choice first, then they can apply for CareerNext supports as they work towards earning their degree or certificate. CareerNext works hand in hand with the disability resource offices on each campus to get students set up with the accommodations and support they need.

Organization Description: The Transitions program focuses on building academic skills, life skills and general independence for high school graduates and young adults with autism and learning differences. Its specialty isn't just in teaching students how to study or learn a trade – it's in showing its students that they can live a life that even they never dreamed of. Through partnership with local colleges, internships in community businesses and supported living opportunities, Transitions helps young people on the autism spectrum or with learning differences make successful transitions from adolescence to young adulthood. Students have access to state-of-the-art facilities, an experienced staff and an evidence-based curriculum that provides individualized attention and training in skills students will use for the rest of their lives. Transitions gives students the tools and supports they need to learn, thrive, and live happy and productive lives that they and their parents hoped for, but never thought possible.
