Adirondack Case Management & Advocacy

Organization Website: www.adkcma.com

Organization Address: 5 Emma Lane, Clifton Park NY 12065

Organization Contact: Michael Cognetti

Organization Email: mcognetti@adkcma.com

Organization Phone Number: (518) 836-2405

Fax: (518) 881-1622

Organization Description: Adirondack Case Management & Advocacy is a privately owned company that was established to help families and professionals navigate the system of services which supports individuals with disabilities. As residents of New York State, we are fortunate to have many programs which are designed to meet the needs of the disability community. Yet even the most well-intentioned and competent advocates can find the service delivery system complicated, and the rules governing eligibility and access to programs difficult to understand. We work together with family members, service coordinators, guardians, and trustees to access available services through various government-funded programs, and to ensure that private funds (either trust funds or family funds) are utilized in a cost-effective manner.

Hours of Operation: 8a-4:30pm

Population Served: We provide services to families and individuals impacted by a wide range of disabilities and diagnosis including Developmental Disabilities, Autism. Brain Injury, Neurological Impairments, Behavioral Health Impairments, and others.

Andrew Arboe: Autistic Self-Advocate and Speaker

Organization Website: https://andrewarboe.weebly.com/

Organization Address: Online

Organization Contact Person: Andrew Arboe

Organization Phone Number: (860) 402-6162

Organization Email: arboea@gmail.com

Organization Description: Andrew is a self-advocate with a professional work background consisting of public school, private school, nonprofits, and online programs. Andrew is also certified through the International Board of Credentialing and Continuing Education Standards' Autism Certification since August 14th. His current workplaces include FOCUS Center for Autism, Anderson Center for Autism, and the Children Hospital of Philadelphia. His past work includes Autism Families Connecticut, Autism Services & Resource Connecticut, Planning Across the Spectrum, The Next Street, and Plainville Community Schools. For self-employment, Andrew started an online program called Driving with Autism, which tackled driver readiness webinars for neurodiverse drivers. He ran it for almost a year, and it taught him professional lessons that he will never forget it. Andrew is also a public speaker who is known for talking throughout the New England area about autism and his personal experiences. Andrew was a keynote speaker for Autism Connection's 2023 conference in Springfield, Massachusetts. His specialty topics on autism include transportation and his famous driving topic, employment, special education and transition to adulthood. Andrew uses the power of storytelling with his personal experiences to provide impactful lessons to help empower individuals and their families. For each professional and personal experience Andrew goes through, it gives him more stories and lessons to share. This was how Andrew spoke for various organizations like AANE, YAI: Seeing Beyond Disability, Autism Services & Resources Connecticut, and US Autism Association. Finally, Andrew is a member of AANE's Speaker Bureau. Andrew graduated from Manchester Community College with an associate degree as a Disability Specialist. Andrew is attending Charter Oak State College for a bachelor's degree in psychology. His future plans include becoming certified in autism, special education and coaching fields.

Organization Description: Crossroads Center for Children is located in Schenectady and enrolls approximately 120 children from 20 school districts in the surrounding eight counties. Additionally, the school enrolls students with general education needs for the preschool and daycare program. Integration of children with and without special learning needs is shown through research to have advantages for all types of learners, and is known as a best practice in preschool settings. Children that are enrolled in the program for special education services are either diagnosed on the autism spectrum or can simply benefit from a behaviorally based educational program. Applied behavior analysis (ABA) is the fundamental approach for instruction at Crossroads Center for Children. The ABA Clinic at Crossroads Center for Children specializes in providing ABA therapy to children diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder. Services are provided by Board Certified Behavior Analysts (BCBAs) and highly skilled behavior technicians. A variety of skills can be targeted using the science of ABA, ranging from improvement of play and leisure skills, adaptive skills, communication skills, social skills, to addressing toilet training issues, various sleep and eating issues, as well as problem behaviors. Therapy may occur at the Clinic, the child's home, daycare, and/or other community settings. Families can contract with the clinic for ABA services that are funded by insurance coverage.

Organization Contact Person: Kimberly Smith

Organization Phone Number: (518) 473-7016

Organization Email: beipub@health.ny.gov

Organization Description: The New York State Early Intervention Program (EIP) is part of the national Early Intervention Program for infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families. First created by Congress in 1986 under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), the EIP is administered by the New York State Department of Health through the Bureau of Early Intervention. In New York State, the Early Intervention Program is established in Article 25 of the Public Health Law and has been in effect since July 1, 1993. The mission of the Early Intervention Program is to identify and evaluate as early as possible those infants and toddlers whose healthy development is compromised and provide for appropriate intervention to improve child and family development.

Hours of Operation: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Population Served: The New York State Early Intervention Program (EIP) is a Statewide Program that provides services to infants and toddlers, ages birth to 3 years old with disabilities or delays, and their families. The Early Intervention Programs are administered within each county/municipality in the State. The Early Intervention Official (EIO) manages the local program.

Eligibility Criteria (if applicable): To be eligible for services, children must be under 3 years of age and have a confirmed disability or established developmental delay, as defined by the State, in one or more of the following areas of development: physical, cognitive, communication, social-emotional, and/or adaptive.

How to Apply for Services (if applicable): To make a referral to the Early Intervention Program, you would need to contact the county in which the child lives. You can find the phone number for the child's county by accessing the following link:
http://www.health.ny.gov/community/infants_children/early_intervention/county_eip.htm.
In New York City, you can make a referral to the EIP by dialing the NYC tot line number: 311. To properly direct your call, you can say, "I want to make a referral to the Early Intervention Program." Once the referral is made to the EIP, the EIO will appoint an initial service coordinator who will schedule an appointment to further explain the EIP to the family and the evaluation that will take place to determine whether the child is eligible for services through the EIP.
